The Dallas lodge of the Knights of Pythias attended the district convention held in this city last night, coming over by 7:30 strong in a special. Officers present from the 15 lodges in this district, brought the attendance close to 200. Frank W. Wrightman delivered the address of welcome and short talks were made by Willard L. Marks, of Astoria, grand chancellor; Walter G. Gleason, of Portland, G. K. B. S., and Lieut. Finest of Oregon City, grand district deputy. The work of the evening was put on by the drill teams of Dallas and Salem. A banquet closed the session.

Beginning with a membership of six when organized about one year ago, the Orpheus Male chorus now has an active membership of 30, and is making plans for the organization of an orchestra from its members. In the near future, a concert will be given at the penitentiary for the benefit of the inmates. At the election held this week, the following officers were elected for the coming year: A. L. Wallace, business manager; O. J. Myers, assistant manager; Carl Gabrielson, secretary; Dan E. Langenberg, director. The chorus has club rooms in the Hubbard building.

New recruits are rapidly taking the place of members of Company M who have moved away, or whose term of enlistment have expired. Last night the following joined the company: Allan A. Hall, Howard T. Rogers, David L. Krebs and Miller B. Harden. In order to maintain its present standard of excellence a school has been established at the armory, in which the privates and non-commissioned officers are instructed by Lieutenant Dana H. Allen and the privates, by Corporal H. F. McInturf. Nine non-coms and thirteen privates were on hand last night for instructions.

HOPS SOLD TODAY

The Oregon Hop Growers' association announces the sale of three blocks of hops today. One sale was made to the E. Clemens Horst company, one to T. A. Litschley & Co., and another lot was sold to Louis Lachmund. Part of the hops sold will be shipped to England and part will be used by American brewers. All of the lots sold consist of all four grades, choice, prime, medium and common as the association is holding its remaining stock up to the standard and will not sell out all of any one particular grade. No prices or quantities were announced.

Fire destroyed a tent house on the old factory grounds on North Liberty street this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The contents were all destroyed with a loss of about $400. The house belonged to O. E. Hazelwood, who has lived here about six months. His wife and daughter were at home at the time but were unable to save any of the contents. The fire caught from the flue.

The boys of the Salem fire department

evidently like company. During the big snow of a week or ten days ago, a big snow man was on guard near the entrance to the fire house. This man No. 1 had gone out of business, but with the coming of the snow last night, a bigger and a better snow man is now standing outside of the fire house, resembling very much that great advocate of peace, William Jennings Bryan.

The Long Fruit Products Co., of Port-

land, today filed articles of incorporation at the office of Corporation Commissioner Schulderman. The company proposes to do a general canning and shipping business and is capitalized at $50,000. Articles of incorporation were also filed by the Hammond Abstract Co., of Oregon City, a $2,000 corporation and the Union Mercantile Co., of Portland, which was capitalized at $1000.

Card of Thanks.

To the Ladies Aid Society and other members of S. D. ### On account of the bad weather and other attractions in the city last evening, there was a small attendance at the meeting called for the organization of the American Revolution. Winthrop Hammond has been active in getting together those who are eligible, and is ready to assist those who wish to collect details as to whether any one of their family name has proven up. A meeting will be called again to further the movement.

Walter L. Keyes announces today

that he will come before the voters of this county for the office of district attorney, to be voted on at the primary May 19. In his platform or declaration, he states that he will not, at the expense of the tax payers, crowd the docket with cases where it is evident that conviction cannot be secured. If elected, he will serve no public service corporation and will see that justice is given to all and that the statutes of the state will be enforced without prejudice or favor.

FAIR GROUNDS ROAD AND BATHING BEACH

Preliminary Steps Taken to Pave Road and to Secure Free Bathing Beach

The Fairgrounds road will be paved this year and work will begin that it may be completed before the next state fair if the members of the Civic department of the Commercial club and those who met with them last evening can bring such a thing to pass. Mayor Harley O. hit spoke strongly in favor of getting busy at once and was of the opinion that if the owners of property on the Fairgrounds road would show the same disposition to cooperate with the city that they did last summer, that the paving could be done. The road could be extended from Commercial street or from Capital but this would not be considered if the property owners on the present thoroughfares were willing to help. R. N. Morris, who is a property owner on the road, spoke in favor of the paving and was willing to sign a petition. But the owners of property would like to know definitely just what it would cost them and after this had been established, Mr. Morris thought there would be no difficulty in getting them to sign a paving petition. E. L. Stiff was also in favor of the improvement.

Referred to Committee.

P. B. Southwick said he had talked with the governor, who would do all that he legally could to advance the improvement. "We will get up a petition. There will be no trouble about getting the road through, as the property owners are enthusiastic." "I have been here 35 or 40 years," said Dr. W. H. Byrd and I have heard talk of building the road every year. The city is under moral obligations to help. It is a shame that we have never had a road to the fair grounds."

The question was finally referred to the present committee of the Civic department of the Commercial club, of which P. B. Southwick is chairman, to investigate and report at the next meeting.

The Bathing Beach.

In discussing the bathing beach, L. H. McMahan did not approve of the name "Municipal" as the city never did anything to help and in his past 40 years, he could not remember of the city ever doing anything so meritorious as establishing a municipal bathing pool.

He explained the difficulties of the committee, consisting of Dr. W. H. Byrd, Ralph Moores and himself, had had in securing help either from the Commercial club or the city. In fact, $50 was the only assistance received, and this was from the Civic department of the Commercial club. The city was asked for $250 and the Commercial club for a like amount, but nothing was forthcoming.

According to the present estimates, fully $2,000 will be required by the city for the maintenance of the bathing beach. Besides the $600 rent that would have to be paid this year for the beach, proper buildings must be erected and the beach put in generally better conditions than last year. H. L. Meyer offered to be one of 50 business men who would give $20 each to raise $1,000, and that the city should be asked for a like amount.

Private interests are after the beach, and have offered Douglas Minto to expend $5,000 in improvements. From the present situation, it is evident that if the city and business men do not come forward and support the beach, that private interests will take it over. The Minto Thanks.

The whole proposition was referred to the present committee, which will report at an early meeting. Benjamin Rivk, Rev. Carl H. Elliott and the Rev. A. A. Winter spoke briefly endorsing the beach.

There was a general feeling of gratitude towards Douglas Minto and his late brother, Harry P. Minto, for allowing the use of the island last summer.

There seemed to be no doubt among those interested in automobiles that Salem should have an automobile club and that one of its first duties should be the putting out of road signs. As this was a question that should come before the automobile owners of the city, Theodore Roth suggested that a special meeting be called when all auto owners should meet with the department and express their views. President Hamilton suggested that the present committee formulate some plans and present them to the meeting of automobile owners. This matter was disposed of by putting it up the committee, composed of Otto J. Wilson, William Brown, D. Misner and Fred Mangis to prepare a definite form of organization.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

After the case of the state against Fred McClard, charged with burning property with the intent to injure the insurer, went to the jury in department number 1 of the circuit court, the case of E. G. Emmett and Fred Cornell against Calvin S. White was called. Emmett and Cornell of Woodburn, as a plumbing firm brought suit against White to collect $56.83 alleged due on a plumbing contract for $406.83. White claims that the work was not done in a satisfactory manner and the case was tried out in the justice court in Woodburn and resulted in a verdict giving the plumbers a judgment against White in the sum of $56.83 with $17.90 costs. White then appealed to the circuit court.

The remainder of the library books for the county school libraries were received at the office of the county school superintendent today and will soon be catalogued and sent out to the schools. A large part of the library books for this year's distribution have already been sent out but one shipment of books was delayed by the slides in the Panama canal.

The fate of Fred McClard, charged with burning property with intent to injure the insurer, was left in the hands of the jury this forenoon but at a late hour this afternoon no verdict had been brought in. This case attracted unusual attention and the courtroom was full during most of the time that the case was on trial.

The county bridge viewers are taking no steps in the selection of plans for the proposed bridge across the river at this place as they are awaiting returns from the state highway department which is making some new borings in the river bed preparatory to submitting plans.

Fred Konkle, who is held in the county jail on a charge of an unnatural crime, is likely to remain a prisoner for some time. He will be committed to the state training school as soon as there is room for him. The school now has 154 boys at the institution and all of the available accommodations are so badly crowded that no new boys can be admitted at present.

Business Men Ask For Lower Tourist Rates Through Northwest

The East Side Business Men's club of Portland filed a complaint with the Public Service commission today asking that this body investigate the present railroad rates to tourists through the northwest. The business men ask the commission to secure as low return rates by way of Portland and Seattle for eastern tourists as are allowed for the return trip by way of the southern route so that eastern visitors might come west by the southern route and return by way of the northern route without any additional expense.
